1 Project Description

Let's develop and publish a profile page. Here are the requirements:

1. Personal Information (20 pts): The profile page must show your personal information, such as name, affiliation, contact information (email), your GitHub account, interests, etc.
2. Photo (10 pts): Include a profile photo using ``. The photo does not have to show your face; it can show a cat, your favorite place, or anything you want.
3. Links (10 pts): Include at least three hyperlinks using ``.
4. Table (10 pts): Include at least one table using `<table>`.
5. List (10 pts): Include at least one list using `` or ``.
6. Bootstrap (10 pts): Link the Bootstrap toolkit to your page and use at least three classes that Bootstrap provides. See <https://getbootstrap.com/docs/5.2/getting-started/introduction/>.
7. Utility classes (10 pts): Link the Bootstrap toolkit to your page and use at least three utility classes (other than the three classes you used above). See the “Utilities” tab in the link above.
8. Custom CSS rules (20 pts): Create an CSS file, `style.css`, and link it to the profile page. Include at least three CSS rules in the CSS file. To select tags, set `id` or `class` attributes.

2 Repository Structure

Your repository must have the following files in the root directory.

- index.html: The main page
- style.css: The CSS file you added
- photo.png: Your photo

3 Submission

The due is November 7th 23:55 KST. Publish your profile page using GitHub Pages and upload a link to your page such as <https://e-.github.io/profile/>.

- The link must point to your profile page not the GitHub repository of your project. Double-check the link contains “github.io”.
- Your code will be judged by an automated program. Double-check the file names: index.html, style.css, and photo.png.
- A report is NOT required.
